

I Found Cheryl

by Paul VanRaden (1994)

Odenton, MD 21113

Searched the seven seas, looked everywhere 'til
I found Cheryl
Searched the skies for signs, then spied her right here by my side

She and I somewhere somewhy collided and we liked it
She and I can't hide that we're an item we're excited!

Surely Cheryl shares my surging ocean of devotion
Certainly, she knows my ship is anchored to her shore

Should we share my ship, my stormy life and leave her island
Or search for sturdy house for husband-wife team for a lifetime

Wonder whether we'll be two together for forever
Why search further when I find that finally Cheryl's mine

First date – Saturday, March 5, 1994
Inner Harbor, Baltimore, MD

Card mailed 2 days later:
March 7, 1994

Hi Paulie >
I hope this little note finds you having a pretty good day. I want to tell you again how very much I enjoyed our evening out together. I think you are a really nice guy. I still have my gloves (although the gesture was very sweet; as you are) I liked being with you, I felt very comfortable.
Well, I hope to hear from you soon.
your Best,
Cheryl

